

FROM Shirley

A few hours on a Friday that I look forward to , ANID Turnkey Projects Contracting LLC course (in collaboration with Manipal Executive Education) has been a great Experience. Great topics and interactive learning sessions.

Mr. Murtaza has been a great inspiring force throughout, his experience with business perspective, design and fit-out details along with his helpful nature is remarkable. I have learned so much in 10 weeks.

FROM Alessandra D'Souza

As an Interior design student at Manipal University, I learnt and developed so many great ideas, concepts, interior spaces and even furniture design. But I was always curious as to how my idea could be made practical for a user. The fit out joinery course at ANID was never a rejection to my design but always an answer or discovery to solutions on how my furniture or interior could be fixed, furnished and finished. The course for me was more of an experience than a school checklist, we covered areas beyond what was promised like:

- building a team
- site visits
- discovery of new design solutions
- even being introduced to a few relevant clients or suppliers on the way
- practical experience and more...

Moreover the interactive teaching methods adapted at the studio really helped the methods make more sense as we were able to experience challenges and solutions first hand. All in all I hope the experience does justice to you as much as it did to me.

FROM Abdul Rahman

Taking the joinery fit out course with Manipal institute has been an augmenting experience. Taking us through the basics of joinery and fit out very patiently Mr. Murtaza has ensured that we strive to become process based rather than person based. Knowledge of how the work is to be done rather than depending on a single person to get your work done isn't realistic in today's world.

Its a must-do course for joinery enthusiasts, senior managers and even those who plan to start up their own businesses

FROM Liza

Taking the joinery fit out course affiliated with Manipal institute has been a great experience. We learnt from the basics of joinery and fit out under Mr. Murtaza he ensured that we learn it in detail with practical so that we understand what we learn and put it to action. Personally it was very helpful.

Its a must-do course for small entrepreneurs, senior managers and even those who plan to start up their own businesses.
